- There is always something you can do.
- Assume the close
- She spoke it into existence
- "If I was out there doing all of these things they wouldn't be so wonderful. They need your time and attention."

Commercials

- Never sell a product that you can't pronounce or don't like and stay in your lane
- People don't care what it does, who you are, they only want to feel it
- Make sure there is an open door
- No one is thinking about what you are thinking about
- If you say it the right way, make it emotional

Forbsing - manifesting something when someone has told you no

- No - means never-ending opportunity
- When you hear no - ask - can I just ask you “you gave me a no but what would it have taken to get a yes?”
- All pitches are about solving someone else’s problem - you have the solution and you need to remind them they have a problem

How to sell something emotional

- There is no perfect pitch - there is a perfect pitcher
- She has a formula that she uses to become the perfect pitcher
- Being a holistic entrepreneur - who are you, why do I trust you, what do you think?
- People care about the essence of the storey in three sentences and how it affects them
- Make your story in a way that would blow your mind

03:12:41 Aygun - Melbourne, Australia: I forgot mention the results we created in our lives

03:13:10 Paolo Tiberi: Good Morning/Evening all, sure happy to share about the course and the discount

The course is the result of my experience in the crypto market.

I teach 10+ Strategies on how to enter the market, timing entry and exit points, etc. It is a Investment Course not a Trading Course, as my experience is that medium/long term investors make much more money in the end.

It takes less then 5 hours to complete, it's on demand (you can do it when you have time), has no expiry and also gives you access to private zoom sessions with other students.

I showcase how I have transformed $56K into $1.28+ Million in a 3 year span, (or $10K into 1 Million) which is not just plausible but very, very possible!

I believe trust is earned not given, so I offer individuals to test drive the course for 6 modules and see if they enjoy it. If they don't, a full refund is processed.

Also here is a scholarship, where people can do the course for free. Please email for more information paolo@cryptowealthnation.com
