- 15% of our financial success is based on our vocation
- The other 85% is sales, operations, people skills, leadership

Susie's story

- She was a single mom trying to raise her children
- Early on in her career, she made a quarter of a million dollars a year working a few days a week
- Paul Mitchell approached her and she began traveling teaching other salon owners to create successful businesses
- 88% of business owners make less than $100,000 a year
 - Out of those many aren't paying themselves
- Only 1.7% hit the million-dollar mark
- This is Susie's tenth company

Strategy

- What is your sales strategy?
- What is your marketing strategy?
- Math is money and money is fun
- Creators can be the most financially successful
- It starts with your plan - get it out of your head and onto paper

- What's the highest income-producing activity only you can do?
- Your gift is that thing that you can see that other people don't see

Raising Your Pricing

- If you are still working one-on-one, you need to charge more
- Focus on the highest income-producing activity
- Don't spend dollars on penny jobs
- We are losing money in our busy-ness
- Focus on the thing that brings you joy, how can you capitalize on the skillset that you have
- Only work with people who have the desire to work with you and the money to pay you
- Your net worth will only go as high as your self worth
- If you don't have the capacity to hold the money you make, you will sabotage yourself
- She told a story about a client who had a high-end jewelry store in the middle of a jewelry store
- If people aren't paying you what you are worth - you aren't finding the right qualified clients
- Qualified clients - they need to love and adore you, love your methodologies, and have the financials to pay for your services
- Many times we are fishing in the wrong pond

Create a plan

- Community is important for building a business
- How can you serve and monetize?
- How many qualified leads do you need to have every day, month, year to hit your revenue goal?
- Slow down to speed up
- We try something once and then we throw it out but it could just be one tick off
- Business - is like a combination lock - you have to know the combination! Keep making shifts in your business until you hear the click! Find the right combination.
- Your tribe is your vibe
- When you make more money you can contribute more

Money Conversations

- Money is a dignified conversation
- My job is to educate and their job is to choose

- Money conversations help you to know how to honor me and you and have clarity in the conversation
- Be bold, get your agreements and revenue shares in place so you are clear

Which systems do businesses often not have in place?

- The money system is normally the one that needs focus
- Look at the result
- Education is the power
- Our job is to educate and the consumer's job is to choose
- Some people are uncomfortable, don't take that on
- Businesses that are most successful are cause-oriented
- How can I incorporate partners to support a cause with you
- The bigger you play, the bigger your breakdown. You need support for those breakdowns.
