

Fridays With Doria & Friends - Ken Honda

Notes From July 1, 2022 Event

How can we be loved by money?

- Most people love money but not many people feel loved by money
- Even if you love money so much, it doesn't guarantee that money loves you
- Have you done things that money can love you?
- Have you treated money in a good way?
- Have you treated it with respect?
- Have you ever said, "I love you so much, money?"
- When you respect money, there is a higher chance that money will love you more

Some of the practices Ken recommends to let money know you love it

- In Japan, it is quite common to talk to things because many people believe that God is in all things
- When he is shopping, he talks to the cash and when he pays with credit cards he says "thank you so much for being with me, come back with your friends."
- When new money comes in, he asks the money "where do you want to go?"
- He has a chat 24/7 with money and money can communicate back

How to heal your beliefs around money

- Talk with money
- Money communicated to Ken "I was so hurt that you blamed me for all of the misfortune that people have and I feel very sad."
- Ken healed his past money trauma by going back to his childhood when it was his 7th birthday and he wanted a mountain bike, which was a symbol of freedom for him. His parents said, "no, it is too expensive."
- Ken took that to mean that his parents thought he wasn't worth the money the bike cost
- As an adult, he realized that his parents loved him but they were afraid that getting a mountain bike when he was 7 years old wasn't safe
- Once he understood this, in his mind, he talked to his 7-year-old self as a mediator to make sense of what happened when he was growing up to clarify that his parents loved him and were trying to protect him
- Now when he sees a mountain bike, he smiles because it reminds him how much the children's parents love them

Ken's story

- His father was a successful accountant and taught him business
- His dad taught him about money and how to read a financial statement
- Ken started his business when he was 22 years old and had financial independence when he was 29
- He was able to semi-retire when he was 29 and began writing what later became his book
- Ken shared that even if you make so much money, if you lose your heart, it's not worth it
- He started teaching about money and happiness
- He has never had financial setbacks because he plays it safe
- He teaches people not to be extremely wealthy but to be worry-free
- A lot of people focus on creating too much on just making money. However, money is energy and if you can't handle it, it can lead to challenges.

Business and Happy Money

- Business is a relationship
- Do you love your business? Does your business love you?
- You need a love for what you do
- You need a system for your business
- Ken has a book club with 10,000 people in the club each paying $10 a month
- Have a steady, subscription-based business
- Aim to be loved and trusted by at least 1000 people
- If you have a good clientele of about 1000 people, you can start any business. If you have more than 10,000 people who trust you, you will be fairly wealthy.
- Building trust takes a long time
- Whatever business you are in, create a strong foundation with subscriptions, and a loyal customer base
- A lot of people focus on building too fast
- You have to build one to one
- If your customers are not coming back - something went wrong - don't become a boring business
- Build a financial fortress based on subscriptions
- If you are not creating happy customers, you cannot survive
- When shaking hands is good enough, things will be more simple
- When you do honest, sincere business, the happy business will follow you
- Trust is such a great invisible asset
- Many people tend to ignore their invisible assets

- When you are afraid of money - think of a few wealthier friends, set up your imaginary joint bank account with them and act as if you have no fear and then money will follow you
- Doria recommends that you write down 100 friends that without an explanation you could call them and ask “would you be willing to send me $1000 even though you may not get it back?” so you remember that there are people who will help you

Ken’s favorite greeting to his money

- Ken says good morning to his money and credit cards
- Money wants to be asked how it is doing
